Fred Lynn has worked with Andrew Levy and Wish You Were Here Productions on several occasions over the past five years. Each event was handled with the utmost of class and precision. I use those words because too many events become “sloppy” and unorganized.

Mr. Levy and his company have it all down pat. The honesty coupled with the “take care of everything” attitude is so welcome. When Andrew calls to inquire about a possible appearance, we are always happy to get that call; we know the event will go without a hitch.
